

Champagne or Chagrin?

Srija Nandini. M
II MA English Literature
Government Arts College (Autonomous), Coimbatore

Syrupy mood of mine;
Valuable valentine;
But never crossed the line;
Fabulous! Ah, that's fine.

Affiliate akin
To the scab of your shin
Or the sling on your skin
As the Yang and the Yin.

No boring borderline;
No malice that's malign;
Just wondrous white-hot wine;
Beseechingly benign.

Without wild wiles within;
As a bard, let's begin
Instant emotions in Voluble violin.

Do descry the design
Delightfully divine
For, your years of decline
Deservedly define.

Got hitched in gripping grin
Of my pellucid pin;
Is that a single sin
of my spacey span's spin?

When the Angels assign,
Let's diligently dine,
Where our minds realign;
That's all what I opine.

Thorniest thoughts so thin;
Boisterous in the bin;
Lamented love would win;
Girl gladdened by the gin.

